Special Student Council Dance

It's something new — on May 29th from 7 to 10 in the Lakeside Cafetorium, there will be a Student Council dance for Eighth Graders and Ninth Grade alumni. For this dance only, students may invite a guest who attends a school out of the Lakeside Union School District.

Grossmont Band Concert Cancelled

The Grossmont Band Concert scheduled for last week was cancelled by Grossmont because of an overloaded schedule.

Vital Statistics

It's time again this week for Lindo Park Children to be measured, weighed and the most recent statistics recorded.

Notes and Flowers Appreciated

Mrs. Kriel wants you to know that she appreciates everyone's thoughtfulness. The many notes and flowers that she received from the children in her school most certainly helped to cheer her up and made her even more eager to return to the classroom.

Mrs. Kriel, incidentally, has returned and although her arm is still in a sling, is feeling much better.

Talent, Talent Everywhere

Last Friday, the Lindo Park Third Grades had their own talent show. There was an abundance of variety and lots of talent. Everyone enjoyed the piano selections, poems, songs, dances, skits, etc., etc., etc.

Birthday Party

There were balloons and lots of bubble blowing when Richard Dewey who is in Mrs. Shensted's class, had a birthday. The class wrote a nice story about the birthday, too.

Children Missed

The children in Mrs. Grassl's room miss Louis Gohr and Darlene Thorn. Louis went with his parents on a trip to Washington, and will finish the school year there. Darlene has moved to El Cajon.

Best Wishes For Speedy Recovery

We are sorry to have to report that Mr. Leahy, Miss Leahy's father, was suddenly taken ill on May 22nd. We all join in best wishes for his speedy recovery.

PTA Dinner Dance

The Lakeside Cafetorium was beautifully decorated, the food delicious and the entertainment entertaining at the P. T. A. sponsored dinner dance last Saturday night. Mrs. Anderson and her committees may be well satisfied. It was quite apparent that the dinner, dance, and entertainment was thoroughly enjoyed by all.

Eighth Grade Constitution Test Scheduled.

Constitution tests will be given in all eighth grades this week. Students must pass this test before they are considered eligible to enter high school.

Class Story - - - Mr. Westrick's Eighth Grade

In our class for the past four or five weeks we have been working very hard on the Constitution of the United States. We have been trying to learn the meaning of the things set down in the Constitution in order that we can be better citizens, and incidently to pass the Eighth Grade U. S. Constitution test. We are also learning to recite the Preamble to the Constitution, the Star Spangled Banner and the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag. We also are learning the Gettysburg Address.

On the lighter side, our boys softball team routed the combined teams of the other two eighth grade homerooms a short time ago and last Friday our girls were in the lead in their game against the other eighth grade girls. We are anxiously looking forward to the last two weeks of school. We have much to do until then. By Joni Lechien and Teddy Morris.

All That Meat and Plenty of Potatoes

Did you know that when Mrs. Davis and her staff make stew they use 25 pounds of stew meat? There's more too. The complete recipe includes 50 pounds of potatoes, 10 bunches of carrots, 3 bunches of celery, 2 pounds of onions, 1 gallon of peas, ten cups of flour and salt and pepper — according to instinct.

Faculty Club Tea Well Attended

Many parents were guests at the Faculty Club tea last week. It was a pleasant afternoon where parents and teachers had the opportunity to visit together socially.

Our New Nurse - - - Mrs. Dortha Murphy

Mrs. Dortha Murphy who is Lakeside's most recent permanent nurse, was born in Iron Mountain, Michigan (we had't heard of it either). Never-theless Iron Mountain is definitely there and thriving, according to Mrs. Murphy who was raised and educated through high school in the town.

After graduating from high school, Mrs. Murphy attended the University of Michigan and later entered St. Mary's Hospital in Green Bay, Wisconsin where she received her nurse's training. While there, she also did postgrdauate work in anesthesia. As a matter of fact, Mrs. Murphy's education in nursing has been rather extensive. While affiliated with St. Mary's hospital she had additional training in psychiatry and pediatrics.

Some four and a half years ago, she came to California to visit friends, and, like "the man who came to dinner," she's still here. She even married a native Californian several years ago. Now, Mrs. Murphy and her husband Paul, live in San Diego where he is employed by the Addressograph Sales Agency.

Mrs. Murphy, who has worked in so many different fields of nursing, tells us that she enjoy working in Lakeside because the work is varied and challenging and the people — friendly.

Petitions Circulated For Eucalyptus Rezoning Plan

In Eucalyptus Hills there is talk of zoning — for and against. The beginning of this talk stemmed from a petition now being circulated. This petition asks the residents of the Hills to sign if they are interested in holding hearings to the possible point of accomplishing some form of zoning. A hearing, per the San Diego County Planning Commission, can only be held by the expressed wishes of a majority of the residents.

The writer wishes to state the fact of the background of this petition. Since the inception of my term of office, as President of the Eucalyptus Hills Civic Association, a number of residents have approached me asking that consideration be given to zoning for the area. Then, tho it was not on the agenda of our last General Meeting, there was considerable discussion pro and con relative to zoning. This discussion terminated with a motion, approved by the majority, that the subject be referred to our Civic Improvement Committee.

The Civic Improvement Committee was a dormant committee. The chairman had recently resigned — his position had not been filled. At this General Meeting it was suggested that Mr. Harvey Bain fill the open chairmanship. Mr. Bain declined to be considered.

It was clear that a reasonable number of people wished to consider zoning. It followed that we needed to determine if they were a minority or a majority. As Mr. Bain's interest in civic affairs was known, I approached him once, then a second time before he finally agreed, with obvious reluctance, to work at determining the wishes of the people.

The Planning Commission in San Diego was contacted by Mr. Bain and myself. Their requirements were determined. The form of the current petition was drawn at the direction of the Commission. This petition's simple intent is to determine if the majority of the people of the Eucalyptus Hills area favor holding preliminary hearings, a question and answer session, on local ground. These preliminary hearings would be conducted by a member of the Planning Commission. A Commission member would be one of the most qualified to answer questions, to give general and specific information, to offer suggestions in putting together a plan, if most of the people desired a plan.

If, at the preliminary hearing, it was evident the majority favored zoning, then it would follow that the attempt would be made to select an ordinance that expressed the wishes of the majority. If such an ordinance should be found, then the final official hearings would be held at the Civic Center, San Diego.

There you have it — sign the petition if you are interested in trying to rope together an ordinance that you feel fits the Hills. Don't sign the petition if you are opposed.

we can help to protect the freedoms these worthy souls have won for us.

Exercise your right to vote. Every election is an important decision to be made by all the people, yet only a minority use their right to vote. It is an important freedom that was won by blood shed and the lives of many men.

To help protect the freedoms so dearly won, why not join up with one of the many organizations such as Civil Defense, Civil Air Patrol, National Guard, Harbor Defense, Ground Observer Corps, and the many other units, whose sole intent and purpose is to protect these United States.

Those whose memory we honor today gave their lives that we might live in the security of these United States where no man is guilty of any crime until it is proven, rather than suffer as some countries do under the iron fist and where a person is subjected to the worst treatment to make him confess to a crime, even if he is innocent.

May we pledge ourselves again on this day to do our best to believe in God and country and pledge ourselves that those who have gone to their great reward have not given their lives in vain.

BOSTONIA BRIEFS . . .

By Toy Musgrave
H4-0288

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Black have returned to their home at 295 Broadway, after a three weeks vacation, during which they combined business with a pleasant sight seeing tour of the western states. Mr. Black was a delegate of Local 346 at the Plaster and Cement Finishers convention in Seattle, Washington. They drove through Alturus, Portland, Aberdeen, Tecoma, and returned through Yakima Valley, and visited in Salt Lake and Las Vegas. The vegetation was beautifully green, according to Mrs. Black, and the blooming flowers colorful at this season.

Mr. and Mrs. Dwight K. Ellison and son, Bart, of 963 North Third St., will attend an outdoor Bar-B-Que Saturday, at the Sam Moore's Ranch in Campo.

Mrs. Truett Thornton, president of the Bostonia Jr. Women's Club, will be the guest of honor Thursday evening, May 28, when members of the Club will meet for dinner at Tom Lai's in San Diego. Reservations have been accepted by Mrs. B. F. Saner for Mmes. George Black, Jr., J. Irvine Howland, Ralph Stewart, Maurice W. Musgrave, Merle Webb, and Robert Young.

A special Missionary program will be presented Sunday, May 31, at 7:30 p. m., at the Bostonia Wesleyan Methodist Church by the Young Missionary Workers Board. A picture of China, entitled "My Name Is Han," will be the main feature of the program. The children's group of the Young Missionary Workers will provide instrumental music. The public is cordially invited to attend.

How many women with Scouting experience are now living in our community? The need for volunteers for Girl Scout Day Camp is especially pressing at this time, and the Day Camp Committee for 1953 would like to know if you can help. Anyone with experience or training in Scout work is asked to call Mrs. John Franklin Blanton, Hilldale 4-7901.

In addition to trained personnel, other workers are needed. Although experience and training are helpful, they are not at all necessary, according to Mrs. Blanton. Even women with young children can help, as child care is always provided at the Day Camp for children of the Staff.

It is hoped that there will be enough volunteer helpers so that not only Girl Scouts, but all girls from seven to seventeen who wish to do to Day Camp may do so.

The Camp will be held late in August, when the girls will be transported to El Monte Park for two weeks of fun and training in outdoor living. Because the workers are volunteers, the fee paid by the girls is very small. While learning to live together out of doors, they participate in a varied program of cooking, story-telling, arts and crafts, dramatics, music, and folk dancing. The older girls even do work toward their Scout Badges.

After spending the day at Camp, the girls are taken home for the night. A trained and capable staff is always in charge of a Girl Scout Day Camp to manage details and insure the safety of all. But, success depends upon the cooperation of the women of the District. Mrs. Blanton says the Day Camp committee of the District, including Mrs. Samuel Wooters, Mrs. W. L. Dawson, and Mrs. E. N. De Waide, is stressing this fact as the planning for the Camp progresses. It is hoped that enough women will give all or part time for two weeks to enable every girl who so desires to share in this outdoor living project.

Little Danny Max Franklin, 3½, died while sleeping, Wednesday. He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry M. Franklin; twin sisters, Margaret Ann and Lavina Lee; and two brothers, Donald Ray and Gerald Edward. The Reverend E. V. Perkins conducted the services Friday, at the Paris Mortuary, followed by interment at Greenwood. Among the many floral offerings was a kite, Danny's favorite toy, made of flowers against a floral horizon, which was sent by a committee of Bostonia residents and merchants of the community.

LOGICAL

RICHMOND, Va. — Trucks parked at a roadside restaurant don't necessarily mean the place serves good food, a legislative commission studying highway matter learned here. E. H. Williams, Jr., chairman of the Virginia Highway Users Association, explained that "It may mean the restaurant has good - looking waitresses."

Water—Plenty Of It At The Turn Of A Faucet

The flowing faucet is a fitting symbol of all the blessings that come to the farm family with a modern electric water system. No more back-breaking toil to lug water for livestock, and then not being able to meet their full needs for maximum growth and production. No more tedious trips to haul water from well to kitchen. Instead, plenty of running water in the barn, at watering troughs in feed lots, in the milk house—and a modern bathroom and kitchen in the farm home. This is what it means to have plenty of water and plenty of pressure to circulate it wherever and whenever needed around the farm and in the farm home.

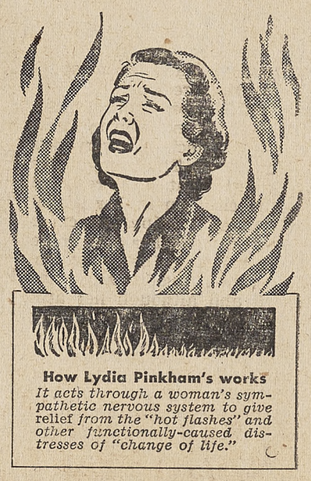

Farming is more profitable with running water which saves time, cuts labor costs. Cows produce more milk of higher butterfat content, hens lay more eggs, hogs and sheep fatten up faster to bring a higher price with plenty of water to drink. May is National Water Systems Month, an ideal time to see a dealer about installing a system properly sized for the water needs of today and the sure-to-be-greater needs of tomorrow.

OUR OWN HERO

When the USS Boxer sailed out of the port of San Diego on Palm Sunday for another tour of duty in the Far East, Chief Boatswains Mate Angelo DiSpoldo was aboard. He is one of the heros of the fire and destruction which struck the big carrier one August morning last year while operating in Korean waters.

Already decorated and with a sheaf of commendatory letters, new honors have come to this modest gentleman, whose home in on Charles Way in Fletcher Hills. He has been made leading Chief of his ship. And there is a graphic article about him and his buddies during those four embattled hours on the fire-swept flat top, in the June issue of SAGA magazine, now on the newsstands. It's jam-packed with action, pictures and heroism. Read it. It's thrilling! It's Terrific.

Mr. and Mrs. Hunter Rush, who left May 2 for a month of visiting in Blandford, Mass., are due to return home shortly. Mrs. Grace Burns, mother of Mrs. Rush, who had been visiting at their home, accompanied her daughter and son-in-law east, where other relatives reside.

A surprise baby shower honoring Mrs. George McHenry was held at the Bud Taylor home, 261 Chatham on Wednesday evening. Co-hostesses were Mmes. Jack Kemp and Al Pharis. Games with prizes were played, winners being Mmes. Joe Burnett, William Paine and Miss Lorraine Chmielewski. Other guests were Mesdames Spencer Monfort, William Seitz, Jack Howe and Miss Doris Dahlberg.

Mrs. Bradley Tidwell, 625 Medford, who underwent a delicate operation on her right eye last month, is so far improved that bandages were removed this week and she is again wearing glasses and the surgery was entirely successful.

The Mother-daughter banquet held last Friday evening in the Presbyterian Church of Fletcher Hills by the mothers and daughters of that church, was a very successful venture. Mrs. Harlan Driscoll, mistress of ceremonies and program chairman was responsible for an interesting and delightful entertainment, which featured Mrs. Beverly Green. accompanied by Mrs. Odessa Ferris. Mrs. Green is soloist with Pt. Loma Prebyterian Church and has sung in the Civic Chorus and in the Messiah for two years. Also on the program was Carol Hall and her accordion. Trudy Gattshall sang "It Is No Secret," Martha Field recited a poem, "Flowers For Mother," Phyllis Gallihon sang two numbers, "I Believe" and "In A Garden." Mrs. Harlan Driscoll gave a reading, "A Parable For Mother" and Mrs. E. J. LeCompte spoke briefly on mother - daughter relationship. Mrs. Harry Jackson was general chairman and Mrs. Marvin Hancock was in charge of table decorations assisted by Mrs. Earle Burney.

Thursday of this week, Mr. Don Kellar, District Attorney will speak for the Social Education and Action Department of the Women's Association of the Church, which is under the direction of Mrs. Vance Dewey. He will speak on Narcotics, and the public is invited to hear him at 8 p. m. Refreshments will be served.

Mr. Earle G. Burney, 437 Falmouth, is planning a two weeks fishing trip to the High Sierras with his rod-and-reel friend, Bill Thomas in the near future. Mrs. Burney spent a few days with her sister, Mrs. C. M. Powell of Oxnard, who was the surprised mother of fine twin boys. They were born April 9th and each weighed over seven pounds. Their father is Lt. Powell, USN, and they have a brother and a sister.

Victoria Celeste Fannin, aged 3, celebrated her birthday May 16th at the Williams Nursery School with a party. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Fannin, 511 Galway. Their son, Joe is a trumpeter with Ozzie's Band, and marched in the May Day Parade in National City, and also played at the Cub Scout Carnival in La Jolla on Saturday. He is a Cub Scout, Pack 31, Fletcher Hills.

PACK MEETS

Friday, May 29 is regular meeting for Cub Scouts. Den participation will feature projects on the great subject of Nature. Den 4 will discuss the Sky.

Navy Chief D. I. Gleason, who was home for the week-end, returned to Oakland to enter the hospital for observation and check-up.

Mr. and Mrs. Earle A. Curtis, 458 Brockton, spent last week-end in Redlands and Beaumont, where his parents reside, on a combined business and pleasure trip.

There was a Canasta party at the home of Mrs. Roy E. Churchill, 5926 Murray, on Sunday, honoring Mrs. Irvin Pollette and Mrs. Edwin Reed. Other guests were Mr. Pollette, Mrs. W. A. McIntyre, Mr. Jack Diamond of Seattle and David Crawford.

The M. H. Cunningham home at 1680 Primrose was a busy place last week while they house-guested an old friend of Mrs. Cunningham, Mrs. Hugh Carpenter of Hollywood. She was entertained with a luncheon at Coronado and dinner at La Jolla and a family dinner on Thursday at the Fletcher Hills home.

Comdr. and Mrs. Robert A. Czerwonky were yellowtail fishing on Thursday of last week. The boat which carried them to the Coronado Islands brought in twelve of the big fish, as well as other catches.

Week-end visitors at the Kermit Hyland home, 449 Garfield, were cousins. Mr. and Mrs. Ingram P. Walters of Glendale.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell V. Fishback and their two children, of 234 Ferdinand, are visiting relatives for two weeks in Minnesota.

Mr. Howard has been assistant district traffic manager of the Southern Pacific in San Diego for the past two years, and will be in the Los Angeles area in that same capacity. Mrs. Howard plans to stay here until after school closes.

FIRE FOR FIREMEN

In the midst of a picnic party in the park on Sunday, a fire alarm sent members of the department scurrying to a fast grass conflagration which started in the 400 block on Highland Ave. and blackened 15 acres before it was brought under control. According to Fire Chief Bill Paine, three little boys with matches were responsible. Ten regular firemen assisted by Clifford Cook and Bob Dryden responded.

The picnic was a surprise affair as a farewell for Commissioner and Mrs. Norman Borgen, who are leaving this week for Norfolk, Va. where MMC (USN) Borgen will report for duty. He is one of the original members of the fire department and in appreciation of his splendid organization and instructive assistance, he was presented with a silver lapel pin. Attending the picnic were Messrs. and Mmes. Gerald Walsh, William Plummer, Bud Taylor, Dan Griffin, Walt Carnahan, William Paine, Max Schubert, K. Goff and the 17 children of the various families.

The Freedom To "Shop Around"

The Chamber of Commerce of the United States has published a new booklet called "Free Markets and Free Men." The point it makes is that the freedom to "shop around," to buy and sell at places and prices that suits us, is as much a part of people's liberty as freedom of press or religion. After a discussion of government-controlled markets, including our experience under OPA and OPS, it says, "Centuries of history . . . have shown that when economic freedom and the free market are chipped away the other components of human freedom are impaired, jeopardized and finally destroyed and liquidated."

In other words, when government has the power to tell us what we can buy, what we can sell, and what we can pay or charge, government's domination of our lives is just about complete. It is inevitable that when dictatorships of any kind take over the government of a country one of their first acts is to liquidate economic freedom and the free market.

Moreover, the free market does more good for more people than any other kind of market ever devised. We see it in operation every day in the hundreds of thousands of retail stores that blanket the country. Some are big, some are small. Some are chain-owned, some are locally-owned. But they have two things in common — they are all looking for consumer favor, and they are all trying to offer more inducements than their competitors.

The Times Move Fast

People are still alive who were children when the work of the farm was carried on solely with crude hand tools and human and animal power. The mechanization of agriculture began only a little more than a century ago.

In that century, a long list of ever-more-efficient machines have been devised and produced — machines which do the farm tasks swiftly and economically, which have enormously increased the farmer's productivity, and which make it possible for him to improve and protect his land for future generations.

Yes, the times have moved fast — and nowhere have they moved faster than on the farm!

Improved Meat Production

The American Meat Institute reports that recent scientific research promises improved farm production of beef and pork, despite expanding production costs and decreasing farm labor.

The secret lies in including adequate quantities of animal fat as a regular ingredient in making up protein supplements for animal feeds. Experiments conducted at the University of Missouri show that this makes it possible to grow hogs to market weights in four to five months rather than the usual seven to eight months. And in a similar work carried on at the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station steers fed high levels of fat along with the usual protein supplements required about 100 pounds less feed per 100 pounds of weight gain than did steers fed low fat levels.

The results were not obtained at the expense of quality, but quite the opposite. Quick growing of pigs will produce lean pork grading choice No. 1. Rib cuts of beef steers fed high fat rations contained a higher percentage of lean in relation to fat.

Other experiments, conducted at the American Meat Institute Foundation, indicate that in high energy rations even a small amount of fat along with animal protein concentrates may prove important in poultry feeding requirements.

These developments constitute one more example of how science is a valuable ally of the farmer.

Owners Get The Least

One of our biggest businesses* recently described what happened to the money it took in last year — and the capsule story will come as an eye-opener to those who still believe that profits are a dominant item in industry's ledgers.

Products and services bought from other concerns accounted for 41.7 per cent of all the company's revenues. The replacement of new plants and other physical facilities took 5.7 per cent. Taxes totaled 5.9 per cent. Human energy — wages, salaries, pensions, etc., — came to 42.1 per cent. The smallest item of all was profit — 4.6 per cent (the cost of using the tools). And only 3.3 per cent actually went to the 280,000 stockholders for the use of the tools their savings provided. The remainder was kept in the business to buy more tools in the future.

WASHINGTON WINDOW

Cheap electric energy has made big industry possible. It has proved new metals, radio, TV and new machines. It means freedom from backbreaking labor on the farm, in the factory or home. It is the basis for a better life.

Demand for electricity in this country is ever growing. It doubles every eight years. In rural areas it doubles every four years. Such expansion is essential to a healthy, properous country.

The power issue, now developing in Washington, revolves around just how we must fill today's and tomorrow's need for low-cost electricty.

One group would give the big power sites on our rivers to private utilities and let them produce all the power.

The other group contends that the rivers belong to all the people. They advocate many public projects to serve multi-purpose ends such as flood control, power production, irrigation and navigation.

The public power group says that only gigantic projects such as government alone can build can serve these inseparable purposes. And such projects also establish a cost yardstick, keeping charges low and allowing widest possible use of electricity.

The new Administration is proposing to Congress that some 89 public power projects in 38 states be either slowed up or stopped. In setting this new policy the Secretary of Interior is reversing his predecessor's action on constructing the big Hell's Canyon project in Idaho.

The Secretary has stated that he believes that private industry and not the government should develop Hell's Canyon. The Idaho Power Company will establish low-head, single-purpose dams which will reduce by one-fourth the amount of badly needed electricity which the government plan would have produced.

There has been considerable opposition to this. Some point to the report last year of the President's Materials Policy Commission to show that in the years ahead we cannot afford to lose this power. The report stated:

"Shortages of electricity and rising costs would impede economic growth; they could throttle the nation's effort in the event of war."

Actually our power load is pretty close to capacity now. In 1951 we had only 7 percent reserve and last year 9.5 percent. A reserve less than 15 percent is considered critical. It means we have practically no margin of the 81.5 kilowatts available to meet stoppages of generation caused by drouth or mechanical failures.

The United States is divided into eight power regions. In 1952 this 15 percent reserve was attained in only three. In the Pacific Northwest power shortage became so critical due to drouth that the Defense Electric Power Administration had to issue an order limiting consumption of electricity.

U. S. agences estimate that we must increase our generating capacity 9.5 million KW this year just to meet current needs. Even with all the tax write-offs and other inducements to private utilities, we increased our capacity in our biggest year, 1951 by only 7 million KW. In that year public percent of all power in the U. S.

Advocates of government power contend that we cannot possibly reach the generating capacity projects generated less than 12 needed in the years ahead unless both private companies and the government build plants as rapidly as possible.

Without this added capacity many of our heavy industries such as aluminium plants will be forced to curtail operations. And a prosperous full-employed America in the years ahead is conditioned on a continued expanding economy. Cutbacks in the program for low-cost electricity can seriously impair such expansion.

The removal of the government from the power field is a major issue. It will have a heavy impact on our future.

THE AMERICAN WAY

Beware Uncle Sam!

CAPITOL AND COUNTY News Letter

by RALPH R. CLOYED
ASSEMBLYMAN

With the realization at the start of the session that the Legislature was faced with the problem of increasing taxes or cutting the Governor's budget, the Legislative Budget Committee instructed the Legislative Auditor to recommend cuts sufficient to avoid having to vote new taxes. The problem was brought about with the passage of Proposition 2 last November which increased the school A. D. A. from $120 to $180 per pupil in average daily attendance with the first year's cost of $67,000,000.

The auditor reported the budget would have to reduce between 20 and 40 million dollars. With $17,500,000 already trimmed off by the Committee on Ways and Means, the battle for further reductions was carried to the floor of the Assembly where many amendments to change the totals were approved. The main target being the University of California. The elimination of an item of $636,000 to purchase 4 acres for tennis courts at a cost of $158,000 per acre.

In addition to the tennis courts, other items eliminated on the floor made a total cut of $3,036,000 to the University's budget.

Thirteen National Guard Armories were deleted to the tune of $1,013,000.

Cuts made on the floor plus the $17,500,000 cut by the Ways and Means Committee represents a slash in the University'sbudget of $4,325,656. The Assembly also voted to prohibit the State from buying any new cars — a cut of $400,000—or a total cut in round figures of $21,800,000.

Although the Senate's version of the budget, while not reported to the floor of the Senate, cuts of $36,000,000 have been disclosed. As in the past sessions, the budget is expected to wind up in a conference committee to iron out any differences between the two Houses, which practically assures no increase in taxes for the general fund.

The Republican members, in caucas, have endorsed the shift in taxes that would raise the exemption of personal income taxes, saving 20 million dollars a year for one million taxpayers. The endorsement is conditioned on passage of additional taxes on liquor.

With the budget out of the way, the fight on legislation to increase the gas tax will become more intense.

The Assembly has passed two bills, both calling for an increase of a one cent gas tax, while members of the Senate insist that it will be a one and one-half cent tax or nothing. It is in such a state of embroilment that leaders of the Legislature predicted free conference deliberation offers the only chance of solution.

Educational T. V. has a half-way approval of the Assembly Committee on Education. The bill permits school authorities to buy T. V. sets and other equipment except station transmitters or sites.

A sub-committee of the Ways and Means Committee had recommended a two year wait before any action on the subject as there is not sufficient information for the State to set a policy.

Assembly legislation to outlaw draw poker in California was tabled yesterday by the Senate Governmental Efficiency Committee, just as it was two years ago.

The Senate Governmental Efficiency Committee voted to take liquor control away from the State Board of Equalization and vest it in a five man elective board, each representing a district.

But we would still have liquor board members running for office; and that means politics in liquor law enforcement anyway you look at it with opportunity for buck passing.

We would still have liquor laws administered in five different ways in five parts of California.

The sounder suggestion would be to have one administrator appointed by the Governor. This would fix responsibility first on the administrator and the Governor and would be more likely to have State uniformity.

It would be easier to fix the blame than it would be in the case of a five man board. If we ever had a governor to abuse such authority, we could get rid of the governor. We trust the governor to appoint judges, and in some instances, heads of different State departments. Appointments instead of elections keeps it out of politics.

VIEW - POINT

By
Robert G. Kaplan, Ph.D.
Clinical Psychologist

For the past six years I have worked in a consultative capacity with Alcoholics Anonymous. This is one group of persons with problems who deserve the greatest commendation for the excellent work they have done. The number of heartaches they have prevented; the number of broken homes they have averted is immeasurable.

If you would visit one of their meetings you would not see a bunch of shaggy derelicts. You would see a bunch of ordinary people just like your neighbors or church group.

These are people who are helping themselves and in helping themselves, are helping other people. Some might say, is this not a case of the blind leading the blind? Well in some ways, yes, but in other respects they are not blind. They see clearly a mutual problem, a common enemy — alcohol. Yet they have achieved a greater understanding than this.

Alcohol is only the enemy when mixed with the alcoholic. This admission is fundamental to their program. They do not blame the world for setting alcohol in front of them. They begin by admitting their weakness in their inability to handle alcohol. Consequently they do not go out on rabid campaigns toward ridding the world of bars, breweries and distilleries. They do go out into the world to assist those who are powerless over alcohol to find a better way of life.

There are as many types of alcoholics as there are personality types. The diagnosis of alcoholism simply describes a symptom. No common causes of this disorder has yet been found. Drinking patterns may be somewhat similar but the reasons behind why a person drinks are many.

Basically alcohol is an escape, getting away from worries, troubles, anxieties, even getting away from success and happiness sometimes. Some emotionally upset people feel so unworthy when they succeed they may drink to get rid of the guilt of unworthiness.

The alcoholic drinks to celebrate his success and to take away the sting of his failures. After a while it becomes a terrific compulsion and it reaches such a momentum that there is no clear reason why he drinks. He drinks toward destruction. He loses pride, self esteem, jobs, family, friends, all the human contacts necessary to survive.

Only when he is at the bottom and the struggle seems impossible does he reach out for help. His employer will have nothing to do with him. His family, if they are still around, are disgusted and hostile. Friends are gone. Often he turns for professional help and all too often doctors are inclined to be disinterested since they may feel that this condition is due to the drinkers willful misconduct. Moralistic judging he does not need! He needs a friend.

AA is that friend. They do not respond to his plea "Help me" they say, "Here is a helping hand, we will help you to help yourself, you are grown up, you are responsible for your deeds and misdeeds, we found a way to sobriety ,perhaps our way will work with you, we invite you to try."

No other program or treatment for alcoholism has had as great a degree of success. I recommend to all who are having trouble with alcohol to contact Alcoholics Anonymous. Their way may be able to help you.

Q. Dr. Kaplan, my husband says he drinks because of my nagging. Does this sound reasonable to you?

A. From the information you have given me I don't know whether you nag him or not. People who drink often seek such explanations for their drinking. It is most often a rationalization and not the real reason they drink.

Dr. Kaplan will write on any question or problem relating to child behavior or family relationships. Write to him in care of this paper. If the inquiry is of a personal nature enclose a stamped addressed envelope.

Sermon Uncovers Nature Of Evil

The Lesson-Sermon is all Christian Science churches this Sunday, "Ancient and Modern Necromancy, alias Mesmerism and Hypnotism, Denounced," attacks the theory that God is the source of evil.

The Golden Text from Jonah (2:8,9) reads, "They that observe lying vanities forsake their own mercy . . . Salvation is of the Lord."

The Apostle James counsels, "Count it all joy when ye fall into divers temptations; Knowing this, that the trying of your faith worketh patient . . . Blessed is the man that endureth temptation: for when he is tried, he shall receive the crown of life, which the Lord hath promised to them that love him" (1:2,3,12).

In "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" Mary Baker Eddy says, "Christians must take up arms against error at home and abroad. They must grapple with sin in themselves and in others, and continue this warfare until they have finished their course. If they keep the faith, they will have the crown of rejoicing" (p. 29).

Until development of the oil industry after World War II, Saudi Arabia's chief source of revenue was the tax on pilgrim's traveling to the holy cities of Mecca and Medina.

Some very interesting things were shown also various types of looms, the first fly shuttle loom they had ever seen. On to La Verne for a Spanish dinner which was very good. Back to Claremont and on to Scripps College where more different types of weaving were enjoyed, also meeting some real folks and the beautiful grounds. A large Indian loom was set up with a very interesting pattern in process.

The group of 36 arrived back in San Diego at 8 p. m.

This tirp took the place of our May meeting. The June meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. R. E. Neiman beginning with a potluck luncheon June 18th. At this time members are invited to bring articles which are to be exhibited at the San Diego County Fair, Del Mar beginning June 26. All members are asked to be present.

Lakeside Community Presbyterian Church

Mr. Hart Dunham accompanied by Mrs. Dunham, left Lakeside last week to attend the 165th General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church which convenes in Minneapolis, Minnesota on Thursday, May 28th, at 10:30 a. m.

The General Assembly meets once a year and is the supreme governing body of the Presbyterian Church U. S. A. It is made up of 884 commissioners representing the 8550 churches which are divided into 259 Presbyteries and 38 Synods. An interesting feature of the General Assembly is the fact that the laity (ruling elders of the churches) and the clergy are represented in equal numbers among the commissioners. A layman can be and often is elected moderator, the highest office of the church.

Each of the 259 Presbyteries of the church has a quota of commissioners, which is determined by the membership of the Presbytery. Los Angeles Presbytery with which the Lakeside Church is affiliated, has a membership of 92,738 and is entitled to have 32 commissioners, of whom 16 are clergymen and 16 are laymen. Mr. Dunham was elected by the Presbytery which includes 160 churches, to be one of their elder commissioners. He is the only commissioner from the entire San Diego area. During his many years in the Lakeside Church, Mr. Dunham has served both as trustee and as an elder. He has been a teacher in the Sunday school, and has had a tour of duty as Superintendent of the Sunday School. At the present time he is chainman of the Ushers Guild, and is a member of the Finance Section of the Building Committee.

At the June meeting of the Men's Club, Mr. Dunham will bring a report on the proceedings of the 165th General Assembly.

On their return trip the Dunhams will stop to visit briefly with relatives in Missouri and Kansas.

On Sunday evening, June 21st, the combined Adult and Junior Girls' Choirs of the Lakeside Community Presbyterian Church, under the direction of Mrs. Trigg Stewart, will present a special concert. An offering will be taken on this occasion and the gifts thus received will be used to start a fund to provide new robes for the choir.

The featured soloist on this program will be Mildred Kreuder Thomas, whose rich contralto voice is widely known and greatly admired by San Diego music lovers. Before coming to San Diego, Mrs. Thomas was for ten years the contralto soloist at the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian Church in New York City. She has been on the concert stage with Nelson Eddy.

Mrs. Thomas is now the contralto soloist at the First Presbyterian Church in San Diego.

During the past week 35 marlin and 15 sailfish were hooked.

San Diego Area Camp Fire Girls News

More than 800 camp Fire Girls will be enrolled at Camp Wolahi this season, according to Miss Rosemary Waters, executive director of the San Diego Camp Fire Girls Council.

The camp, which is located in the Cuyamaca Mountains will open June 25 and will be in operation through August 25.

In describing the camping facilities which will be available to the girls, Miss Waters stated that Camp Wolahi will offer swimming, hiking, outdoor cooking, handcraft. and sports and games. In addition, she said the girls attending camp will participate in nature lore study, creative dramatics, songs and folk-dancing as well as working for honors in the Camp Fire Girls program.

Girls will be enrolled for periods ranging from one to eight weeks. Registration for several of the sessions is already closed, the camp capacity of 100 campers having been reached.

This year Miss Nelle J. Gibson will be in charge of the camp and assisting her in the administration and programming will be a staff of some thirty counselors and specialists. Miss Gibson has had a number of years experience in administrative capacities with various Camp Fire Girls camps in all sections of the United States. Most recently she served as assistant director of the Seattle Camp Fire Girls Camp and last summer directed the Omaha, Nebraska Camp Fire Camp.

Camp Wolahi, which has been in operation for the past 26 years, comprises twelve acres near Lake Cuyamaca. Land on which the camp is located was donated to Camp Fire Girls by Col. and Mrs. Ed Fletcher. Camp Wolahi is financed through campers' fees and the council's annual supplementary fund drive — a recent sale of peanuts.

Last year a total of 731 girls attended the camping sessions.

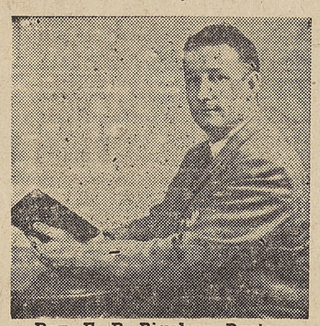

In addition to Camp Wolahi, which meets the high standards set for resident camping, local girls will have an opportunity to attend day camps, which will be operated at the council's Balboa Park cabin, Loligro, and in Live Oak Park near Fallbrook and Vista. Miss Birdell Andre will direct day camping activities. 350 girls will participate each week in the various day camping programs.

They Make America Snicker

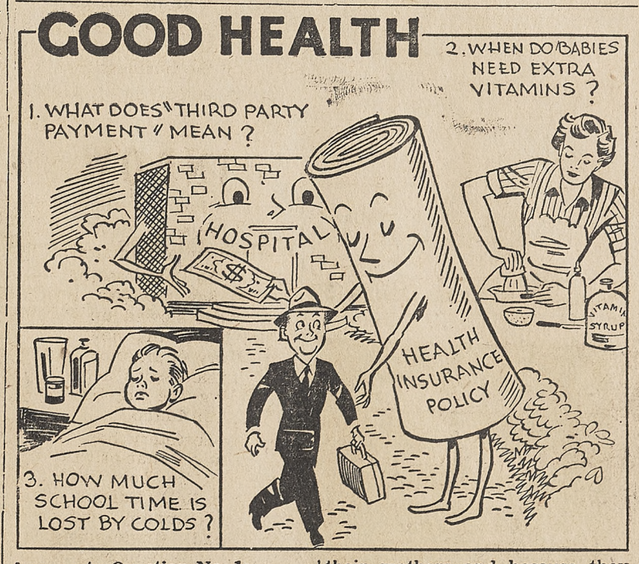

The ten comedians who have given the nation the most snickers during the past year were named by the National Laugh Week Foundation as Jack Benny, Bob Hope, Jackie Gleason, Groucho Marx, Jerry Lewis, Sid Caesar, Jimmie Durante, Martha Raye, Gracie Allen, and Lucille Ball.

Snickers Awards, scrolls carrying a tribute to these comedians as the top laugh-makers of the country, will be presented to them during the observance of National Laugh Week, April 1-8 in cooperation with Snickers candy bar, a product of Mars, Inc., Chicago, Ill.

The comedians were chosen as a result of a poll conducted by the Humor Societies of America which includes the National Association of Gagwriters, Junior Comedians of America, and The Museum of American Comedy.

All performers cited have won fame on radio, television, and in motion pictures.

GOOD HEALTH

Answer to Question No. 1:

The term is applied to that method by which a hospital and physician receive payment for hospital services not from the patient himself but from an organization such as non-profit health insurance groups (Blue Cross), commercial insurance companies, industrial plans, cooperatives, or government agencies.

Answer to Question No. 2:

Before babies are a month old, they are often given, on the advice of a doctor, some form of vitamin D, the sunshine vitamin. Premature babies especially need extra vitamin D since they may not have inherited much from their mothers and because they grow so fast. Many doctors give babies vitamin C in the form of orange juice before they are a month old. Medical science's discovery of the importance of vitamins is one of the outstanding health contributions of the 20th century.

Answer to Question No. 3:

In a study of 7700 pupils it was discovered that the common cold was the cause of one-third of all absences. Most persons have one or two colds a year, but some average four or more. In case of frequent colds, it is advisable to consult your physician.

Top Yellowtail Goes Over 40 Pounds

After six weeks of competition the top 20 fish caught in the Seventh Annual San Diego $15,000 Yellowtail Fishing Derby weighed 31 pounds, seven ounces or more. One hundred and fifty of the registered weigh-ins as of May 19 tipped the scales at better than 22 pounds, Derby officials reported.

Heading the quest for the Derby's Grand Qualifying prizes — a round trip flight for two persons to Hawaii for the men and a pair of Chinchillas for the women — are Paul Darrough, Route One, Ramona, with a catch of 40 pounds, three ounces, and Mrs. M. K. Bill, 2711 Prospect Street, National City, with a weigh-in of 34 pounds, 14 ounces.

Other Yellowtail Derby anglers listed among the top 20 are Lyman R. Smith, 2743 Figueroa Blvd., San Diego, 37 pounds, four ounces; L. T. Stowers, 8930 Lemon Avenue, La Mesa, 36 pounds, 10 ounces; D. W. Masters, 1516 First Street, Coronado, 36 pounds, five ounces; John Neighbors, 3845 40th Street, San Diego, 35 pounds, three ounces; Stan Neighbors, 8565 Galeside Rd., La Mesa, 34 pounds, 15 ounces; W. M. Robertson, 4131 Western St., San Diego, 34 pounds, six ounces; and Frank Woolman. 116 E. Redwood St., San Diego, 34 pounds, two ounces. Others are W. H. Maxwell, 1808 Marine St., Santa Monica 33 pounds, six ounces; Charles Sivero, 4432 Market St., San Diego, 32 pounds, 15 ounces; Bill Taylor, 5217 Monroe Ave., San Diego, 32 pounds, 10 ounces; W. W. Heart Fund Drive Successful

At the meeting of the Board of Directors of the San Diego County Heart Association, Mr. George A. Scott, General Chairman of the campaign drive for research funds, expressed his happiness at the success of the campaign.

He announced that the campaign had been oversubscribed by some 20 per cent and wished to express his heart-felt appreciation to all of his co-chairmen and volunteer workers who worked so magnificently to achieve this result. To one and all he expressed his great satisfaction on the way the citizens of San Diego County have rallied to the support of the Heart Association in their sincere effort to expand the field of research so that the terrific death rate caused by heart disease may be cut materially this year.

Mr. William C. Casper, Chairman of the El Cajon area, also wishes to express his appreciation to all those who worked so earnestly in the campaign. He said that it was indeed gratifying to lend support to a cause such as this and that the citizens of the El Cajon area accept with pride a share in this success.

Reports released by the American Heart Association at its conference in Atlantic City, April 8th, were most enlightening and gratifying. Tremendous progress is being made in the fight against diseases of the heart. The effect of various drugs and other agents in the treatment of coronary artery disease, the basis of heart attacks, together with the attention that has been given to heart surgery, occupied a prominent place on the agenda in Atlantic City. This work must be continued and further expanded, Mr. Scott explained, until success has been attained.

San Diego County Could Be The Tennis Capitol

Support of a County-wide tennis program for youngsters that would make this area the foremost producer of net talent in the World is the goal of the annual San Diego County Tennis Patrons' Dance on June 6 at the Balboa Park Club.

Tickets for the second annual Tennis Ball, featuring a host of famous tennis champions, celebrities and civic officials, are available this week through junior tennis players and members of all tennis clubs. Around 800 attended last year's dance and an even greater turnout is expected this year, according to Tennis Patrons' Association president, Fred Kinne.

More Freeways For Valley

The California Highway Commission today declared its intention of considering the adoption of two improved routings for a total of nine miles of State highway in the San Diego-La Mesa area. The new routes, if adopted, will be declared freeways.

The highways involved are State Sign Route 94, for the seven miles between Home Avenue in San Diego and Palm Avenue in La Mesa; and State Highway Route 198. which connects Sign Route 94 at Campo Road with the El Cajon Highway (U. S. 80), a distance of two miles by the proposed routing and two and one-half miles at present.

The proposed new line for Sign Route 94 lies approximately parallel to the present route along Federal Boulevard and Broadway, running south of the existing highway between 41st Street and about a mile and a half east of Euclid Avenue, and then north of it to the junction with Palm Avenue. The proposed freeway route contains fewer and easier curves than the present highway, and would cost less to develop as a freeway than the existing route because right of way costs would be less.

The proposed Route 198 freeway line runs northeast from the present junction of Palm Avenue and Campo Road, and turns north at a point slightly west of Bancroft Drive. It continues north, generally parallel to Bancroft Drive, to a junction with U. S. 80 at La Mesa Boulevard. The route is half a mile shorter than the existing highway, which follows Palm Avenue and then La Mesa Boulevard through the central part of La Mesa.

Both route proposals are based on extensive traffic surveys recently made in the San Diego-La Mesa area, which clearly showed that freeway development is needed to provide additional arteries for the large and growing volume of eastwest traffic.

The Commission was informed by State Highway Engineer G. T. McCoy that the routes proposed for consideration were determined to be the ones which would cause the least disturbance to local property development and still serve the traffic needs.

The Commission requested McCoy to determine whether local authorities wish the Commission to hold a public hearing before formally considering adoption of the new routings.

Trout Fishing Good At Bridgeport

The Bridgeport area was the hot spot for trout fishing in the High Sierra during the week, the Outing Bureau of the Automobile Club of Southern California said today.

Fishing was fair in the June Lake Loop. It was generally slow at Crowley, but what fish were taken weighed between one and two pounds.

The Fish and Game Department has been stocking the small streams below Bishop. The streams are low and clear, and angling has been good.

Fishing has been fair on bait and spinners on the Owens River between Benton Crossing and Arcularius Ranch.

Tioja Pass road opens for all traffic Saturday (May 23).

Many Southland Streams Stocked

Many southland lakes and streams were stocked during the week by the Department of Fish and Game, it was reported today by the Outing Bureau of the Automobile Club of Southern California.

They are: San Bernardino County — Arrowhead, Gregory and Jenks lakes; Cucamonga, Deep, Lytle and Miller creeks and the south fork of the Santa Ana River.

San Diego County — Black Canyon Creek and Sweetwater and San Luis Rey Rivers.

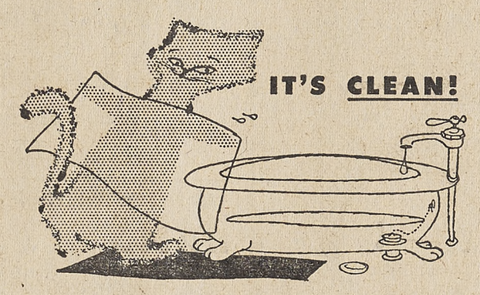

San Luis Obispo — Arroyo Grande, Atascadero, Lopez, Morro and Tassajera creeks.

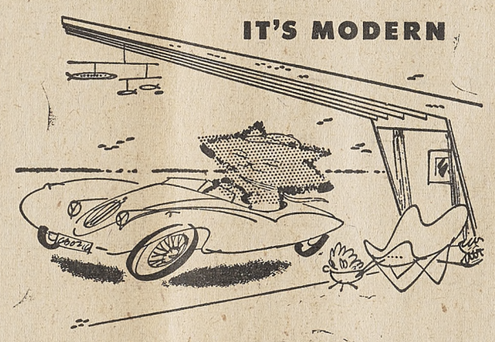

Santa Barbara — Davy Brown and Salispuedes creeks and the lower Santa Ynez River.

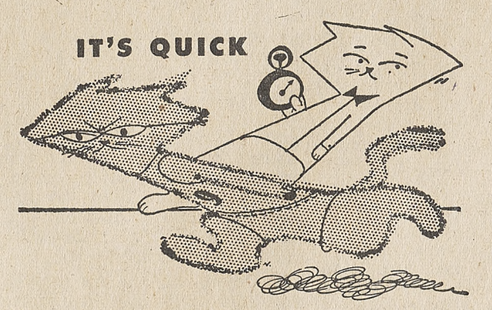

Ventura County — Santa Paula and Sisar creeks.

Riverside County — Snow Creek.

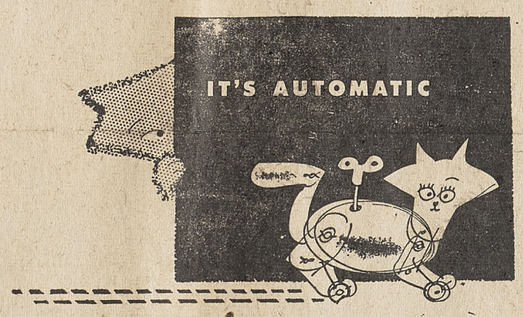

HERE ARE THE 9 REASONS TO CHANGE TO A NEW ELECTRIC RANGE

An electric range — the cool, modern range for your modern kitchen.

-- AND THE TIME TO CHANGE IS NOW!

Summer is coming and remember . . . that's when cooking in your home gets to be a real problem.

Faded appetites — heat — smoke, grease and dirt — you can get rid of them all in one swoop by making the change now to a new, good-looking, cool-cooking electric range.

Specifically, there are nine good reasons why women prefer an electric range in their kitchen. Here they are: 1. It's cool. 2. It's clean. 3. It's thrifty. 4. It's fast. 5, It saves work and time because it's automatic. 6. It's modern. 7. It delivers more healthful meals because you cook with less water. 8. Electrically-cooked foods taste better for the same reason. 9. Last, but not least, it's dependable . . . makes every cook a better cook.

This week — see your dealer and talk terms with him about your new electric range. Make your life 9 ways better this summer — and for many summers to come — with a sparkling, new electric range.

Demo. Council Hears U. N. Report

"There is only a small vociferous minority that is spreading vicious fallacies about the United Nations. The greater majority, of well meaning, but misinformed people can dissipate these fallacies about the United Nations by seeking out the facts." This conclusion was reached by Captain Henry McIlvaine, third speaker of a fact presenting panel on the United Nations, at a meeting last night of the Democratic Council of San Diego County, at the Cuyamaca School in El Cajon.

Mrs. Mabel Siglinger, International Relations Chairman for 9th District P. T. A. outlined the magnitude of the U. N. organization and the work of its many agencies. "If only because of the work of 2 of these agencies, the International Childrens Emergency Fund, which provides supplemental rations for over 4 million children all over the world — and the World Health Organization . . . I would be for the United Nations. It is a moral world influence . . . the U. N. is the conscience of the world . . ."

Ralph Grove, president of the San Diego Chapter, American Association for the Untied Nations, in discussing Our Foreign Policy and tse U. N., related several actual instances of the Point 4 programs in actual operation in Iron where rural development and education for leadership is fast making the need for Communism obsolete. In Afghanistan, where the introduction of the common garden hoe, raised crop output 250%. He cited President Eisenhower's statement, "Not only is isolationism no longer possible, it is good business to help your neighbor" . . . "One of the important things to remember," said Mr. Brown," is that the U. N. comes in to help only at the request of that country. It cannot interfere otherwise."

A spirited question and answer period brought out these facts:

1. The U. N. cannot threaten United States sovereignty. It is made up of 60 sovereign nations jealously guarding their own.

2. It cannot destory the Constitution of the United States. All U. S. treaties must be approved by Congress.

3. The U. N. could not possibly be a nest of spies. All meetings are open to the public. There is nothing on which to spy.

Repeal of Gross Receipts Tax On Trucking Asked

Assemblyman Ralph R. Cloyed of San Diego County is one of 44 members of the lower house of the State Legislature who are demanding repeal of the 3 percent gross receipts tax on for-hire trucks.

This is a vicious tax which discriminates against a single segment of our vital trucking industry," Cloyed said.

He pointed out that privately owned truck fleets, which far outnumber the heavy for-hire vehicles, are not subject to the gross receipts tax.

"The Legislature and the governor have long recognized the inequity of this tax, and on two previous occasions the tax has been repealed by legislation," the Chula Vista lawmaker said.

"But on each occasion, the governor has vetoed the repeal bills, with the explanation that although the tax is unjust, the Legislature had failed to provide a substitute to compensate for the loss of revenue which the tax yields to the state."

There have been many plans at this session for spreading the truck tax equally over the whole industry, most of them calling for higher fuel taxes on all trucks.

"I want to see the truck tax equalized," Cloyed explained, "but we must not shift the burden to the small, home-owned trucks, which operate principally within the county use the highways only incidentally. If we can avoid doing this, I will cast my vote to relieve the for-hire trucking industry of this unjust gross receipts tax."

The for-hire trucking people have pointed out that they also are opposed to imposing a heavy tax on farm trucks or small vehicles owned and operated by local business concerns. Bills calling for equalizing the truck tax apply only to heavy vehicles having an unladen weight of 6,000 pounds or more.

Over 2000 Yellows Taken Last Week

With big schools of yellowtail working at the La Jolla kelp beds as well as at the Coronado Islands, deep sea anglers racked up more than 2000 for the week which ended last Saturday and El Cajon rod and reelers caught enough to start their fishing pals scurrying for their tackle.

Benny Haskins, who finished fourth on the list of prize winners for the week with a 32 pound 4 ouncer, set the pace for anglers from El Cajon proper, although Stan Neighbors, of La Mesa, topped him with a 34-15 which won second spot. Top yellow of the week was a 36-5 caught by Herbert Simmons, of San Bernardino.

Mrs. M. K. Bill, of National City, moved into the women's leadership in the $15,000 San Diego Yellowtail Derby with a 34-14 which replaced the 32 poonder checked in earlier by Mrs. Theresa Bullard, of Maywood.

The La Jolla kelp beds proved to be the hot spot on the local fishing front last week, and three boats Friday afternoon accounted for more than 100 yellows, four times that many log barracudas, some white sea bass, and limits of calicos.

El Cajon rod and reeler who registered yellows during the week included the following: Harmon Perryman, 26-14; Terry Taylor, 26-7; J. R. Darrough, 21-0; Jess Aster, 19-0, and Mrs. Itoko Nojima, 22-02.

Wilkins Installed As President of Native Sons

Philip C. Wilkins, 40, of Sacramento has been installed as grand president of the Native Sons of the Golden West, first resident of the State capitol in 63 years to be elected to the post.

The young veteran, an attorney active in civic affairs, was a delegate to the last two Republican national conventions. He has participated actively in the American Legion, through his Fort Sutter Legion Post, and is vice chairman of the California Department's Legislative Commission.

Both of the new grand president's parents were born in California, and his grandfather, Charles E. Wilkins, was a city councilman of Oakland. Wilkins' wife, Sue, is a native of Sacramento.

The Native Sons, founded in 1875 by General A. M. Winn, first Mayor of Sacramento, now has a membership of about 20,000. Its past leaders who participated in the installation of Wilkins, included Joseph R. Knowland of Oakland, Judge William Conley of Fresno, Seth Millington of Oroville, Eldred L. Meyer and Walter H. Hodemar of Los Angeles, and others.

Humanity Is Served By Community Chest

This is the story of a lonely little boy who was found crying on the steps of a church.

Pedro is a "wetback" from distant Guadalajara, Mexico. He's an orphan, 12 years old but small for his age; and he's neat, quiet and courteous.

"He was cold and hungry," said Sister Katherine, director of Bayside Social Center, a Red Feather Community Chest agency. "He had been left behind by his older companions when they hurriedly boarded a northbound freight train.

"From a distance Pedro saw the cross on a church. He walked to the church; later someone saw him and brought him to Bayside Social Center."

The Sisters fed the boy and gave him warm clothing. They placed him temporarily with a kindly Mexican family while arrangements were being made this week to return him to Guadalajara.

La Jolla Playhouse Season Ticket Sales Reported

With barely two weeks left for the sale of season tickets to La Jolla Playhouse, total sales almost equal the sum reached at the end of last year's campaign, Harold Starkey, chairman of the San Diego County Committee for La Jolla Playhouse reveals.

"If the space continues, we will have sold better than 50 percent of the available seats by the close of the sales period on Saturday, June 13th," he explained.

"There are still a lot of very fine seats left and we urge all our friends to take advantage of the opportunity to obtain good seats before single seats go on sale.

"The principal advantage in having season tickets is that it assures the possessor of having the seats he wants for the performances of his choice throughout the nine-week season, which begins Tuesday night, June 30th. In addition, the greater the number of seats sold to season subscribers, the greater the benefit to the Playhouse since that will result in less money and effort having to be devoted to the promotion of individual plays throughout the season. We are all anxious to cut costs, so we suggest that one of the best ways to support this outstanding cultural project of the county is to buy season tickets," Sarkey concluded.

Meanwhile, John Swope, who is executive producer for Dorothy McGuire, Gregory Peck and Mel Ferrer this year, announced that he will reveal a large part of the summer's schedule within a matter of days.

"We are fully aware of the desire of the public to know exactly what plays we shall produce and who will be in them," he said. "But we want to avoid any disappointments which might result from premature announcements. Also, if we should announce that a certain star is to appear in a certain play, and then for some one else to take the part. So we feel it is better to say nothing until we can be positive.

"We have, however, arra to present S. N. Behrman's pop lar comedy of last year, "Jane," early in the season. Edna Best, who starred in the original New York production, will recreate her role and direct as well. In the cast with her will be Gale Gordon, well known to TV audiences for his portrayal of "Mr. Conklin" in Eve Arden's "Our Miss Brooks."

"As for the rest of the season, when we announce our schedule we are confident our friends will be happy to see that some of Hollywood's and New York's top stars are going to appear in some of the most popular current and recent plays of the American theatre."

Season tickets may be obtained at La Jolla Playhouse box office in the Morgan-Thornton Department Store, La Jolla. Individual tickets will go on general sale June 15th, after the close of season ticket sales.

"THAT LITTLE GAME" Internat'l Cartoon Co., N.Y.—By B. Link

CONVAIR THEN AND NOW—On Friday, May 29, San Diego's Consolidated Vultee Aircraft Corporation (Convair) will observe the 30th anniversary of its establishment May 29, 1923, at its 30,000-square-foot plant in East Greenwich, R. I., Fig. 1, above. Founder of Consolidated Aircraft Corporation, as the company was originally known, was Major Reuben H. Fleet, a resident of San Diego, at right in Fig. 2, discussing the company's early days with Convair President Gen. Joseph T. McNarney. First product of the East Greenwich plant was the TW-3 biplane trainer, Fig. 3. Then followed other Army business making it necessary to move the company in 1924 to larger facilities in the wartime Curtiss factory at Buffalo, N. Y., Fig. 4. Seeking an ice-free harbor and year-around mild weather for its flying boat business, Major Fleet decided San Diego offered these assets. Thus Consolidated packed its equipment into 50 freight cars, moved westward, and began operating in what is now Building 1, in September, 1935. Today, Convair's Plants 1 and 2, near Lindbergh Field, Fig. 5, with an area exceeding 4,000,000 square feet, employ nearly 22,000 persons from all over San Diego County and are producing commercial and military aircraft, doing research and development in guided missiles. The company's nerve center is its 7-story General Offices, in foreground, from which emanate instructions to operating divisions not only in San Diego, but also Pomona, Calif., and Fort Worth and Daingerfield, Tex. Typifying tomorrow's supersonic water- and land-based aircraft shapes is Convair's XF-92A, Fig. 6, an Air Force research interceptor and the world's first delta-wing airplane. Local plans for the 30th birthday celebration include a San Diego Chamber of Commerce luncheon honoring Convair, and a television show, "Wings for Peace and War," over KFMB-TV, on May 29, from 9:30 to 10:30 p.m., with live sequences taken in the plants, interviews on the job, and historical background.
